SCORE PERISH IN ROOMING HOUSE FIRE; CHILDREN AMONG VICTIMS

TWELVE BODIES RECOVERED FROM RUINS OF HOUSE

Blaze Consumes Dwelling in Kansas City Early On Friday

ORIGIN NOT FOUND

Firemen Digging In Debris for Remains of Others Believed Dead

Kansas City, Kas., Feb. 23.—Twelve charred bodies have been recovered from the ruins of a two-story brick and frame building destroyed by fire early today.

It is believed 15 of the 20 roomers trapped on the second floor perished. Six are believed to have been children. Firemen are digging in the debris to find other victims.

The bodies were recovered several hours after the flames were discovered.

Elisha Colston, husband and father of two of the victims, escaped with one child, Helen, but was unable to return for the remainder of his family.

The flames were discovered by a passerby shortly after 1:30 o'clock this morning. They spread rapidly. Within half an hour the roof fell in.

The ground floor was occupied by a garage. A number of automobiles were destroyed. Origin of the fire has not been determined. The money loss was $20,000.

Seek Pyromaniac

New York, Feb. 23.—Police today are searching for a pyromaniac who is believed to have started a blaze in a tenement here as a result of which two persons are dying and four others received painful injuries.

The blaze was one of four suspicious fires which started early today in the heart of the east side tenement district.

Mrs. Fannie Berger, 80 years old, and an unidentified man believed to be her husband, jumped from a third story window. They will die.

Two spectators were painfully hurt while trying to effect a rescue and two firemen were overcome by smoke.

LIVING WAGE IS BACKED BY W. G. M'ADOO IN TALK

Scores Railway Labor Board for Not Adhering To That Principle

Washington, Feb. 23.—William Gibbs McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, director general of railroads and a potential candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1924, came out today with a vigorous declaration in favor of "the living wage" for American labor.

In the orthocoming issue of Labor, organ of the American Federation of Labor, McAdoo severely criticizes the Railway Labor Board for its rejection of the "living wage principle" and gives his own definition of what constitutes such a wage.

McAdoo's statement is regarded as holding considerable political significance.

The minimum wage, McAdoo asserts, should be "sufficient to enable a thrifty industrious worker to maintain himself and family in reasonable comfort, educate his children, and save something against emergency and old age."

PROTEST ENTERED BY BOY AGED NINE

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 23.—Albert Seagal, 9, walked up to the capitol yesterday to ask Governor Smith why he and the rest of the children of Albany had to go to school on Washington's birthday. The governor was away, but the lad was met by Assemblyman Louis A. Cuvillier, who took such an interest in the case that he introduced a bill in the legislature condemning the superintendent of schools and expressing the view of the assembly that it would not countenance any slight of Washington's memory.

CORTNER CASE IS ADJOURNED; DEFENSE ACTS

Adjournment Taken Until Some Time Next Week in Springfield

WANT CASE DISMISSED

Two Motions Filed by Attorneys for Alleged Klan Leader in Court

Springfield, Feb. 23.—Adjournment until some time next week was taken in the case of W. M. Cortner, kleagle of the local Ku Klux Klan, charged with "riotous conspiracy," after the filing of two motions by the defense late yesterday.

One motion asks for the dismissal of the case and the return of the property seized in the raid February 12 and the other asks that all evidence presented by the state be thrown out.

The hearing will probably be resumed Wednesday of next week. Police Judge Golden C. Davis said he wished to take time to look into the competency of the evidence presented tentatively, and to prepare his rulings on the motion.

A bitter denunciation of the Klan and its principles by Special Prosecutor Malone, and a parading of the defects of the state's case by Judge Charles Orbison, Indianapolis, attorney for the defense, closed the hearing yesterday.

Columbus, Feb. 23.—Statements attributed to Rev. Charles Woodward, pastor of the Broad Street church of Christ, by Edward McDonald at the trial of William Cortner, kleagle of the Springfield Ku Klux Klan, were denied by Rev. Mr. Woodward.

Rev. Mr. Woodward said he was misquoted in statements attributed to him by Mr. McDonald relative to the growing strength of the Jews, and that 85 per cent of the public offices were held by Catholics.

"Gentlemen's agreement" was reached at noon between administration leaders and chiefs of the filibustering "battalion of death" to adjourn at 6 o'clock tonight for the purpose of considering bills on the Senate calendar at tomorrow's session. This decision to end night sessions ad to take up legislation, other than the subsidy, was interpreted by the filibusterers as a tacit admission that all efforts to enact the bill would be dropped.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The end of the fight for the shipping bill is in sight.

The bill, it is said, will be abandoned by its Republican supporters, who have been trying in the face of heavy odds to carry out the president's wishes for enactment, and will be sent back to the commerce committee, to die on the committee files when the congressional session closes.

Plans formed by leaders for and against the bill call for the action to be taken either tonight or Saturday.

It may be decided to permit the filibuster, which has been conducted against the bill for three days and four nights, to run along this evening, in which event Saturday morning will witness the adoption of a motion which will recommit the bill.

President Harding already has been informed by his advisers in the senate that further efforts to break the filibuster, which has brought about complete stoppage of all legislation, will be useless, and that so long as the filibuster continues it will be impossible to get the shipping bill still to a vote.

The motion to recommit the bill, it is understood, will be made by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, acting Democratic leader. A canvass of the senate is said to have shown that in addition to practically the solid Democratic vote, the motion will receive the votes of a sufficient number of Republicans to insure its adoption.

The filibuster was continued throughout the entire session, the longest speech being made by Senator McKellar of Tennessee. Portions of his speech consisted of reading of speeches made by Senators Smoot and Cummins in the ship purchase filibuster in 1915, when Republicans blocked the passage of a Democratic bill. Senator Gooding of Idaho also took up about two hours with a speech on the stabilization of wheat prices. Brookhart of Iowa then got the floor and made a speech requiring four hours to deliver.

In the course of his debate Brookhart declared that the time will come when members of the farm bloc in the senate will appear on the floor of the senate attired in brogan shoes and overalls.

REPUTATES WIFE'S DEBTS OF BIG SUM

London, Feb. 23.—Mrs. James Nash of New York, who, according to her husband, claimed to be the best dressed woman in London, was named in a suit against Captain Nash by Callot & Soers, famous Paris dressmakers, to recover $3,000 due for dresses made for his wife. Nash asserts that he is not responsible. He told the court that he had ruined himself, spending his entire fortune of $90,000 to pay her debts and buy her luxuries, in spite of the fact that she had a personal income of $6,000. They were married in 1919.

GASTON WINS DOG DERBY.

Ashton, Ida., Feb. 23.—Smoky Gaston won the American championship from Ted Kent by the hair-raising margin of 14 seconds in the famous American dog derby here.

LORD CARARVON OPENS TUT-AUKHAMEN'S TOMB

Lord Carnarvon, discoverer of the tomb of King Tut-ankh-Amen, in the Valley of the Kings, and his daughter, escorted by the Niudir of Luxor, shown leaving by automobile from Luxor for the famous treasure tomb, which has just been opened. That King

Tut-ankh-Amen should not suffer in the next world mummified meat and birds were left in his tomb when he was buried 3,300 years ago.

HUGE RUM FLEET DUE TO ARRIVE OFF U.S. COAST

New York, Feb. 23.—There is nothing in the rum running line that could surprise me any more after all I have seen of it," declared John G. Appleby, assistant federal prohibition director for the New York district today. In commenting on a report that huge rum fleet, bearing part of a $7,000,000 consignment from England, would anchor off Sandy Hook this evening.

Appleby "had heard the story." He did not know "whether they were doing anything about it," but he "wouldn't be surprised," if it were true.

The government is said to be aware of the activities of the syndicate back of the reported shipment.

According to the tale which is filtering through financial districts the syndicate is operated by a man who is said to have won and lost at least two fortunes in Wall street. It is supposed to exert considerable political influence on both sides of the ocean and one of the wealthiest and best known British distillers is said to be known to be a prodigious traveler.

Hints that he might kill himself to his father-in-law, Abraham Goldman, of Chicago, were discounted by detectives and operatives of the William J. Burns International Detective Agency who are seeking him. The hints came in a letter in which "Pont II" cut lined his breath-taking financial career and shouldered full responsibility for his failures.

While the search was on for Marcino, whose real name is Joseph Marcino Balata, Frank L. Taylor, former railroad fireman and $50 a week "president" of the First National Bank of Warren, Mass., whose arrest here disclosed the gigantic swindle remained in custody.

No preparations have been made to receive the "flagship" of the Atlantic fleet" when she noses to her anchorage three miles out at sea off the Hook tonight.

The fact that the British government has refused to cooperate with U. S. dry enforcement officers has made it impossible to take any action it is said.

SEES AMERICA AS INSANE COUNTRY

Indianapolis, Feb. 23.—The American people are rapidly going crazy, in the opinion of Dr. J. N. Hurty, a nationally known figure in health work. But don't worry! The last sane person will not disappear from the country for 100 years, according to his estimates. "Americans are fast becoming a race of morons, imbeciles and maniacs," he said. Dr. Hurty has resigned as head of the state board of health, after serving 26 years, to enter the legislature, where he will fight to correct state marriage and health laws.

Thirty Enter Pleas of Guilty In Wellsburg

West Virginia

Wellsburg, Va., Feb. 23.—Thirty men indicted for complicity in the Cliftonton mine riots of last summer in which Sheriff Duvall and seven union miners were killed, entered pleas of guilty to conspiracy charges in circuit court here today.

Each prisoner was sentenced to serve a term of three years in the Moundsville penitentiary.

Sixty-nine other cases pending against miners will be nolled, the prosecutor announced.

Most of the defendants were from Avella, Pa.

APPROVAL OF DEBT IS UP TO HARDING

Washington, Feb. 23.—Congressional approval of the bill ratifying the British debt settlement was completed when the house formally concurred in the senate amendments.

It will now be engrossed and signed by the vice president and speaker and sent to the white house for President Harding's sanction. Mr. Harding undoubtedly will sign it without delay, making the measure a law probably by tonight.

Representative Burton voiced an earnest appeal that criticism of the other debtor nations be withheld while the remaining negotiations are being conducted. He declared: "If these attacks were taken seriously in diplomatic circles they would strain our relations with other countries. There are certain standards of comity between nations that ought to be observed in all our relations."

CONTINUE SEARCH FOR YOUNG BANK WRECKER

Int That Joseph B. Marcino, wanted in Connection With Huge Embezzlements Committed Suicide Is Discounted

Chicago, Feb. 23.—Joseph B. Marcino, 28 year old bank wrecker extraordinary, whose embezzlements total nearly half a million dollars, was hunted today in half a dozen places—in Chicago, in various parts of the United States, in Mexico and at the ports of South America, Macino was known to be a prodigious traveler.

Taylor was to be arraigned late today, before U. S. Commissioner Glass.

Marcino, in a long letter to his father-in-law, told how he rose from a barber at 16, in a Chicago Hotel to be a financier in less than 10 years. His one big asset was "personality."

The letter, written on stationery of a Buffalo, N. Y., Hotel, was mailed somewhere in Texas or Mexico.

His reason for contemplating suicide, he wrote, was to enable his creditors to realize his $100,000 worth of life insurance.

Marcino was last seen a week ago.

He abandoned his wife in Buffalo, after selling $149,000 bonds and securities taken from the Warren, Mass., First National Bank. His wife returned to her father in Chicago.

Additional reports from Warren, Mass., are that bank examiners are unable to definitely account for $443,000 in cash, stocks and bonds which passed through Marcino's hands in transactions involving the Niagara Life Insurance Company and two banks.

WOMAN, 75, FREEZES TO DEATH, SISTER IS DYING

Neighbors Discover Tragedy in Dayton, Kentucky, Where Starvation Causes Death—Vigil Was Maintained

Cincinnati, Feb. 23.—With only a mouldy morsel of bread between her and death, Mrs. Margaret Mansfield, 73 years old, was found last night beside the body of her sister, Mrs. Mary Lanham, 75, at the latter's home in Dayton, Ky., a suburb across the Ohio river from this city.

Mrs. Lanham had frozen to death after starvation had weakened her to the point of exhaustion, and her sister, too feeble to seek aid, had lain beside her for a week, talking at times in a weak voice to the corpse.

Neighbors last week, saw the aged Mrs. Mansfield, who resides in Cincinnati, enter the home of Mrs. Lanham. She had hastened to nurse her sister, who was ill. Nothing was seen of either thereafter until last night, when Dayton residents forced an entrance to the cottage.

Half crazed by hunger, thirst, exposure and fear, Mrs. Mansfield was moaning in a faltering voice: "Mary, do you hear me? Please answer me, sister."

Then she lapsed into unconsciousness.

A search of the house revealed that it was devoid of all traces of fuel or one small bit of bread was the only food that could be found. Scant bed clothing covered the sisters as they lay on a narrow bed, one dead and the other living, but helpless. Not even water was at hand, for a thin film on the bottom of a bucket had frozen.

The aged sisters were said to have two brothers, but their names and addresses could not be learned.

Mrs. Mansfield was removed to a hospital, where physicians stated that her recovery was improbable.

DEMANDS MADE AFTER MURDER OF AMERICAN

Action Characterized as Sternest Since Lusitania Tragedy

WANT AN APOLOGY Nation Fails to Give Satisfaction to This Country

Washington, Feb. 23.—In one of the sternest protests since the Lusitania notes to Germany the United States government has made six specific demands upon the government of China as a result of the murder of Charles Coltman, an American citizen, at the Kalgan gate of the great wall of China, it was learned officially today. Coltman was fatally shot by Chinese soldiers, while seated in an automobile beside American consul Sokobin. It is regarded as a mere accident that the consul was not hit also.

The six demands made by this government upon the Peking government are:

1.—That the Chinese government make a formal apology to the United States.

2.—That the Tutung of Chahar, the region in which Kalgan is located, make formal apology to Consul Sokobin.

PEACE SOUGHT IN GERMANY BY ALL CONCERNED

French and German Interests In "Sounding Out" Campaign

Berlin, Feb. 23.—That there is a "sounding out" campaign going on between French and German industries for a settlement of the Ruhr question is the persistent report in reichstag, banking and bourse circles known to have affiliations with German industries.

These "soundings" are based on the understanding that the Ruhr invasion in its essence is nothing but a military raid by France's industrial captains on Germany's coal and iron mines after the German industrialists had turned down a demand for the combination in a trust of Franco-German industries on conditions laid down by the French.

The French industrialists demanded a 60 per cent participation, which was refused by Stinnes, Thyssen, Krupp and others. Stinnes declared that he was not seriously opposed to the scheme in itself, but would not enter it on that basis.

The present "soundings" are declared to be in the direction of ascertaining what percentage the German industrialists are now willing to give and the French ready to accept, for the creation of a gigantic German-Franco-Belgian coal, iron and steel trust as the most formidable capitalistic bloc in all Europe.

One of the chief obstacles to the carrying out of such a plan, which is to include the definite settlement of the figures for reparations, is the fear of revolt on the part of the German workmen, who are already being told that they are sold to the French capitalists.

Partly for the purpose of averting that feeling on the part of the workmen was the recent agreement made with the workmen that in the event the French do not win in the Ruhr with their military machine, they, the workmen, will be taken into the German industries on an interest sharing basis.

County special taxes collected, including assessments for street improvements, street cleaning, oiling, etc., amounted to $63,093.36. This amount is distributed as follows:

Fairfield (street oiling)	$ 156.49

CHURCH SOCIETY GIVES "KID" PARTY

Members of the Young People's Society of the Second United Presbyterian Church reverted to their childhood days Thursday night, and enjoyed one of the most enjoyable informal social times, in the church parlor, in the nature of a "kid" party.

The young men and women, numbering about 45, attended the affair, dressed in juvenile outfit, which produced much merriment and added to the informality of the occasion.

The program of the evening consisted of "stunts" and exercises in keeping with the nature of the function, interspersed with musical selections by the "Radio Sextette" orchestra. Members of the orchestra included Warnock McDill, Walter Galloway, Herbert Wheeler, Roger Lynn, Kenneth Maxwell and Frederick Schell. The program included a flag drill by four boys, reading by Mrs. C. P. P. Proudfit, recitation, Robert Ballentyne, piano solo, Madge McKeever, recitation, Mary Ballentyne, vocal duet, Boula Grimes and Celia Moore, recitation, James Bryan and a talk by the Rev. C. P. ## FREEDOM LOOMS NEAR FOR M'KINNEY—WILL NOT BE HELD ON FORMER LIQUOR CHARGE Toward freedom and the promised land where novels always end and the life happily ever afterwards begins," a man was counting the clicking rails under the too-slowly moving train Friday afternoon.

The man was Leroy McKinney, principal in as tragic a cross-section of real life, as ever found in the fantastic fabric woven by a master fictionist.

Friday noon this man left the state prison at Columbus in fact a free man, although technically still within the scope of the arm of the law, to be whisked by fastest train to Wilmington, and there have the court that sentenced him wrongfully to serve sentence for a crime that he did not commit, attempt to efface the damage done, by wiping the stain against his name from the records of justice in the Clinton County seat.

FRANCE'S INVASION OF GERMANY LATEST ANGLE OF EUROPEAN MUDDLE

A few days ago, in the British Parliament, former Premier Lloyd George, made a notable speech. Mr. Lloyd George said he considered the French Government committed to a policy of irretrievable disaster. There had been nothing in the reparations problem, which, in his opinion, demanded such a violent step, and the disquieting feature was that there must be some reason beyond reparations, since clearly reparations was not the object in view.

It would be very difficult for France to retrace her steps while the pride of both countries was engaged. The pride of France and Germany had been aroused. These countries stood in a position of gleaming defiance.

Arguing that revolution in Germany would be a greater danger for France, Great Britain and Europe than militarism in Germany, and that the French action was a repetition of Germany's blunder in 1914, the former Premier said he was only entreating Premier Bonar Law to take a further step, and take it now.

He did not believe that Great Britain could succeed alone. It was impossible for reparations and restorations program to succeed without America. Americans had the world's gold locked in their chests and were suffering from indigestion and surfeit. They had a moral responsibility: They had shared in the war and helped to break up Germany. Their president had signed the peace treaty, and, although the Senate had rejected it, that action was not on the ground of reparations, but because it was unable to accept the League of Nations. Americans had morally accepted the whole position.

Mr. Lloyd George made considerable play with Secretary Hughes' recent suggestions, and he wanted to know if the Government was sounding the Washington Government as to whether "they were standing by the proposals they themselves had made to meet the probable contingency of failure of the Paris conference."

Declaring it was needless to revise the whole treaty, as the Laborites demanded, but that everything essential could be carried within the four corners of the treaty, Mr. Lloyd George concluded:

"I entreat the Government to take the initiative, first, by approaching the United States, and then with the United States approaching France. Then, I believe, both together will be able to surmount the difficulty."

Mr. Bonar Law expressed surprise at the amendment alluding to "recent indications of the willingness of America to participate in a conference," and he declared: "There has been no word written or spoken by any representative of the American Government that has suggested willingness to intervene in the quarrels of Europe."

The Premier pointed out that Mr. Hughes referred to the possibility of "distinguished Americans" being willing to serve "Distinguished Americans," said Mr. Bonar Law, were not the American Government. It was not an indication that the American Government was willing to intervene.

FUTURE TRANSPORTATION.

Henry Ford is said to be planning for a big fleet of barges on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers to handle both finished products and raw materials, including coal from his West Virginia mines. He is also said to have his eye on a new canal route between Detroit and Cincinnati, in which the federal government is interested. When that canal is ready for use, he will place a fleet of barges upon it immediately.

Then, it is said, Mr. Ford will proceed to double track and electrify his Detroit, Toledo and Ironton railroad, and build a concrete highway all along the line, parallel with the tracks, for the use of motor trucks.

These may be only so many new "Ford yarns." Henry Ford is rapidly developing into a sort of industrial myth. Nevertheless, the moves suggested are logical moves for an alert and bold captain of industry to make.

More than that, they probably indicate the trend of American transportation in the near future.

Waterways with power barge and electrified railroads and solid highways with easy grades for heavy motor truck traffic—who ever gambles on those, and has a big enough stake to see the thing through, may win.

TRANS-OCEANIC CONVERSATION

So young is the telephone that its 50th birthday will not be celebrated until 1926!

Great has been its development, however, and just how great is emphasized by the fact that a few days ago New York talked across a distance of 3,400 miles to an English audience for nearly two hours, and transmitted messages—speeches, really—that were heard distinctly and clearly understood.

This is some progress from that eventful day in March, 1876, when Alexander Graham Bell spoke over a wire and was heard by his colleague in an adjoining room of the same building. That first telephone message traveled about 100 feet. When New York talked to England the other evening, voices were flung 3,400 miles over land and sea, only 70 miles which was by wire.

STALLING FOR AN EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

Mr. Clarence Fisher is ambitious to become a railroader and has secured permission to learn the duty of a fireman, on the Pan-Handle, entering his work a day or two ago.

Mr. O. A. Spahr of this city, is today announced as a candidate for county treasurer, subject to the Republican primary. Mr. Spahr has been a dry goods merchant in Xenia for many years and is popular throughout the country.

The Elks held a session of more than usual interest last night. Twelve candidates were initiated after which an elaborate banquet was served enjoyed by ninety members of the order. A report was made that the lease for the new home had been signed by the trustees.

On Wednesday morning the mercury ranged from 12 to 20 degrees below zero.

THE METHODICAL WOMAN.

There are some women who are beautifully and enviably neat and methodical. I am not one of them, so I can write impersonally without preaching, only with wonder at them. They are the kind that can make out marketing and shopping lists, and when they go out, purchase everything on the list and never anything besides, carefully calculating beforehand what it will cost, and paying that much and no more. They are not like the girl who went out in freezing January weather to buy much needed waterproof shoes and returned bearing a beautiful new silk bathing suit for next July. I always return without at least one or two items not crossed off my shopping list (when I make one.) And when I do make one I usually forget three or four things that should have been put down.

These are the women who never have a button loose on their shoes nor a hook without its eye securely fastened, nor a snap fastener that doesn't work. They never have hairs that straggle down the backs of their necks, nor collars that aren't the last shoemakers to keep one's shoes in good condition, and the virtues of sewing on hooks and eyes. Of course I want everyone to be neat and methodical because muddiness and carelessness is never becoming. Only I would not want to have my readers sacrifice everything to neatness and method. An element of imagination must enter everything from planning one's career to doing one's hair.

Day:—It is quite possible that you have not attained your full height at 17 years of age. In your gym work at school take all the exercises that will elongate the spinal column and be particular to stand correctly so you will have full credit for every inch of your height.

V. J.:—The exercises for developing the throat are those from rolling the head around over the shoulders, first to the right and then to the left. Also, drop the head forward as far as possible and then throw it backward. In each of these exercises be sure to hold for an instant when the exercise is completed and then tense all the muscles. Massage into the tissues either olive oil or a building cream.

All questions asked by our readers will be answered in this column. Medical and legal subjects are barred. Address all queries to "Information" this paper.

Reader—O. K. is said, on one hand, to be derived from a dispatch signed by Andrew Jackson and labeled O. K., which, through his ignorance of spelling, he meant as Oki Korrekt, abbreviated. Ex-President Wilson, on the other hand, derives the letters from an Indian word "Okoh," meaning good or perfect.

Steady Reader—No, you are wrong. Cats are not able to see in absolute darkness, although they can see in less light than we can. Their ability to seemingly see in the dark is constituted in a pair of most sensible feelers and whiskers that act as guides and eyes.

League Member—You are quite right in saying that there are more women than men voters in Sweden.

word in neatness. They are such good examples, these methodical women. We envy them, we strive to imitate them, we know that we are going to fall—and sometimes we don't even care.

Today's Talk

ON MANAGING LIFE ARIGHT

I have met many managers in my brief day. I have studied them. I have made a note of their good and bad points.

But he who manages life aright is greater than them all.

Greater than he who manages a great business or a farm, or an orchestra, or a nation.

I think it was Solomon who said that he who ruled his own spirit was greater than he who ruled a city. But even so wise a man as Solomon didn't put that truth strong enough.

He who rules and manages his own life—having a clear understanding of the fundamentals of life—is greater than all the other managers of earth.

It was Stevenson who once wrote in his Travels of a Donkey, that "we speak of hardships, but the true hardship is to be a dull fool, and permitted to mismanage life in our own dull and foolish manner."

That was Stevenson's unique way of saying that a man should be permitted to be himself, without outside interference, and to go ahead being his best and most natural self.

And that is what counts most in this lot of life. It's heroism to let the crowd laugh at you if it wants to—and you going right ahead being a man, and nothing but a man.

Ah, if we could only with courage plan out a definite course for this life of ours and stick to it through thick and thin, in what a refreshing job we would find ourselves engaged!

It's a complicated life. It's full of mystery, and the more we learn and know, the more complex things become. So that it takes an even balance, and a high sense of humor as well, to keep our smiles on straight and our hearts free from sloppy sentimentality.

Lets accept life, play it in all its angles—and be big and thorough at it!

CHICAGO KIDS GO TO SCHOOL IN TAXICABS

Chicago, Feb. 23.—Maybe there be barefoot boys who chew tobacco and struggle to school with fishing tackle flung over sunburned shoulders. May be there be. But no one in Chicago knows it.

Every day more and more children here are going to their three R's in taxicabs. This was revealed by statistics that virtually substantiated the widespread claim that Chicago is America's worst city for motor car deaths. There were sixty-three killed by February 6.

One company has 117 standing orders for a taxicab morning and evening to carry some child to and from school. The number is increasing every day. In anticipation of a greater clientele, the corporation dispatches a different driver each day, so all may learn to care for children.

An official of the company said the practice began three years ago, when city folks became alarmed at the growth of auto accidents.

The few anxious mothers who resorted to the taxicabs so their children would not be compelled to cross dangerous streets spread an idea among others who could afford it.

TAUGHT "MODERN IDEALS."

Most of these taxi-students, all between the ages of six and ten years, live on or near the North Side "Gold Coast." In this section of Chicago's affluent the children are taught modern living from birth. Maybe you think they go on the Sabbath to Sunday schools with shining nickels for the poor box and faces and souls no less shiny. Then you're wrong. Their mothers and fathers, worn out by Saturday night dinner dances and the like, sleep late. They thrust a handful of nickels into the small fists of Kenneth and Maybelle, not for the poor box, but for the automat slots. There the twentieth century fledgling buys its baked apple and oatmeal with cream.

"QUICK EATS" POPULAR

This automat, incidentally of the kind usually confined to districts where appetites are in a hurry and not very choice, "caught on" with the elite of Sheridan road and Wilson avenue overnight. Until after midnight it is thronged, some of its patrons in evening dress. Out for a lark you know.

Wilson avenue is a wilderness of restaurants, beauty shops, dress makers places, music stores, delicatessens and other establishments that go with modern living. There is not one old-fashioned meat market where an old-fashioned wife could by an old-fashioned inch steak, if she could, what would she do with it in a apartment hotel—fry it in the phonograph? It's a great life, but death to the bankroll.

DECISION IN VOGT CASE.

Columbus, Feb. 23.—Hearing of charges against Mayor H. H. Vogt of Massillon was concluded after the prosecution directed the testimony of several star witnesses against the mayor. Governor Donahay announced that he would hand down a decision in writing as soon as possible, after which the hearing of the other officials charged with misconduct would begin.

When You Catch Cold Rub on Musterole

Musterole is easy to apply and it gets in its good work right away. Often it prevents a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. Just apply Musterole with the fingers. It does all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster without the blister.

Musterole is a clean white ointment made of oil of mustard and other home simples. It is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lumbago, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back and joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosty feet—colds of all sorts. Seldom fails to deliver results. 35¢ and 65¢, jars and tubes; hospital size, $3.00.

Better than a mustard plaster

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
Did for Her

Kansas City, Mo.—"I was left in a very serious condition after childbirth and no one thought I could ever be any better. Then came the 'Change of Life,' and I was not prepared for what I had to suffer. I had to go to bed at times to be perfectly quiet as I could not even stoop down to pick anything from the floor. I did not suffer any pain, but I was decidedly nervous and could not sleep. For nearly two years I was thin, and the doctor was frank enough to tell me that he could do no more for me. Shortly after this I happened to see in a newspaper an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. In a few days I had begun its use and I took it regularly until I was well. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to others when I have the opportunity."—Mrs. MAY LINDQUIST, 2814 Independence Ave., Kansas City, Mo.

SPRINGFIELD HERE FRIDAY; LEGION DEFEATS THE TIGERS

MERCHANTS AND OHIO BELLS AGAIN WIN

FAMOUS AUTOS AGAIN WIN

Coach George Haller's Famous Autos, leading professional basketball team in this city, took a fall out of the Medway Collegians on the Central High court Thursday night, winning handily 31 to 19 from the team that last year claimed the Clark and Green County court championships. The graceful and accurate basket-tossing of "Buddy" Barlow, and the crack game put up by the veteran Harry Solimano, set the locals off in front coupled with baskets by Joe Mark in the second half, after the first period had finished with the teams tied. J. Grimm's ability to connect with the ball in the first period kept his team above water in the opening session, and two free shots by Solimano only enabled the locals to eke out a tie with the visitors.

"Peck" Koehly began to watch J. Grimm more carefully in the second period however, with the result that this lad did not make another counter from the floor the rest of the game. In the meantime Barlow, Mark, and Solimano had started the heavy artillery and a comfortable lead was soon hung up on Xenia's side of the ledger. Solimano was high man with 13 points and Barlow a close second with 12. Mark contributed the rest of the scoring. J. Grimm and Ubrig made 17 of the visitors' points between them. MERCHANTS MAINTAIN LEAD

The South Side Merchants maintained their standing at the head of the Municipal League without having lost game by defeating the Famous Juniors in the preliminary to the big court card at Central High gym Thursday night 11 to 8.

So tight was the guarding of the Merchants that the Famous five did not obtain but one field goal, and that was late in the second period. In the meantime the Merchants also suffered from close guarding and the game was one of the smallest scored contests played in the loop so far.

The teams were tied at the half the Merchants boasting a field goal made and foul by the former, while Muterspaw kept his team on even terms with five fouls out of six attempts.

In the second half Reutinger got another field goal, and Douthett added four goals out of five attempts while

Bales connected with the Famous

Five's only field and Owens shot a foul. The lineup and summary:

AIRPLANES ARE BOON TO ARCTIC POWER STATION

London, Feb. 23.—Up in the White North, inside the Arctic Circle, an air service has been regularly maintained for the last two years.

On the Luleaf, in the north of Sweden, and some thirty miles inside the Arctic Circle, lies the Porjus power station. This station obtains its power from lakes in the mountains at Suorva, about 70 miles northwest from Porjus.

A little community of about 400 souls have grown up at Suorva, and for several years they were almost completely shut off from the world except for occasional communication by boats in the summer and by sleighs in the winter.

START AIR SERVICE

Two years ago it was decided to link up Suorva and Porjus by an air service in order to give them facilities of communication, which would bring them in constant touch with the outer world.

For this purpose experimental flights began at the end of August, 1920, with a "Fairey" machine, propelled by a 350 horsepower Rolls-Royce engine. The experiment was successful but on account of the extremely bad weather conditions in the mountains it was evident that a smaller and lighter plane would be better.

To this end an "Avro", with a 130 horsepower Clerget engine, was acquired and the service was installed. This machine has proved a great success. It is fitted with floats in the summer and with skids in the winter, and though the cold is most severe at times and the weather extremely changeable, this service has hardly ever been interrupted and no serious accident has ever taken place.

The average number of return journeys per month has been nearly 25, and during the winter months there are only three or four hours of daylight.

COLD NO TROUBLE

The cold has rarely interfered with flying and it has been found possible to fly with the thermometer at 40 degrees below zero. Thus air-cooled engines are more practical than water-cooled.

The worst month last year was February when the regularity of the flight diagram shows 51 per cent. In January it was 58 per cent, March and April 78 per cent; May, 89 per cent; June and July, 100 per cent.

In August the curve began to fall, and in September it had reached 81 per cent, with a slight rise again in October.

Along this route are met quite a number of whirlwinds, which draw up snow or water into columns of about 25 yards high, and sometimes as many as ten of these spirals have been seen at one time.

WIND IS CHANGEFUL

On most of the route, owing to the high mountains, only two winds are found—northwest and southeast. But these have been known to change places in an hour and a pilot starting from Suorva, with a northwest wind blowing at the rate of 22 miles per hour, has finished in a southeast wind of 44 miles per hour, and all in the space of 60 minutes.

Maintenance of a regular service has had an extraordinary psychological effect on the inhabitants. Knowledge that, in case of need, they can obtain help, medical attendance, provisions, and stores, as well as newspapers and mails, has had a great effect.

Columbus Woman Tells How Ka-di-ok Relieved Her Ills in Very Short Time.

Ka-di-ok is designed to relieve stomach, liver and kidney trouble, poor blood, and a run-down debilitated system. That it fulfills its purpose in the majority of cases is evidenced by the numerous testimonials which are daily received testifying to the way Ka-di-ok helped them. Among those recently received is the following from Mrs. Paul Christison of 674 Mt. Vernon Avenue, Columbus, who says: "Until recently I suffered constantly from indigestion and stomach trouble. After eating the simplest sort of food or even taking a small drink of water or other liquid I would almost immediately have the most miserable pains in my stomach. I felt continually tired and sore and was very nervous. My complexion was very yellow; like I might have jaundice. I was advised to try Ka-di-ok and started taking a treatment a few weeks ago. The results have been most gratifying. Since that time I have increased in weight several pounds and can eat anything with relish and without my stomach being affected in the least. I am now feeling and looking as well as I have been for a long time. I can truthfully say that Ka-di-ok has done me more good than I ever expected and am glad to give this testimonial for the good it may do others."

Ka-di-ok can be obtained at Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store, Xena.

IRON DOORS CHARGED WITH ELECTRICITY WILL GUARD OLD TOMB AGAINST GRAVE ROBBERS

Luxor, Egypt, Feb. 23.—The most modern of safeguards, including great iron doors charged with electricity, will be utilized to keep off grave robbers when the 3,000 year-old tomb of Tut-Ankh-Amen is resealed by Lord Carnarvon's Egyptologist exploration party, it was learned today. These precautions will be in addition to tons of limestone that will be poured over the ancient tomb.

Among the latest visitors were a number of Paris and London dress-designers, seeking ideas. They said they expected the "Tut-Ankh-Amen gown" to be all the rage later in the year. It will be a long robe with flowing skirts.

So widely has the epochal discovery of Tut-Ankh-Amen's tomb been advertised in the press throughout the world that the explorers are becoming more and more disturbed over the possibility of grave robbery during the summer, when the shrine will be closed.

Extensive precautions will be taken against tunnelling into the tomb from some of the nearby hills.

82 YEARS OLD AND AS GOOD AS A YOUNGSTER

"7 or 8 years ago I was a very sick man. Doctors said catarrh trouble of stomach and bowels, affecting the liver and heart. For more than a year I wanted to die, but could not. Upon the advice of a friend I tried Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and although 82 years old I now feel as good as a youngster." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

To this end an "Avro", with a 130 horsepower Clerget engine, was acquired and the service was installed. This machine has proved a great success. It is fitted with floats in the summer and with skids in the winter, and though the cold is most severe at times and the weather extremely changeable, this service has hardly ever been interrupted and no serious accident has ever taken place.

throws interesting light upon Egyptian life in the days of Tut-Ankh-Amen, thirty centuries before the coming of Christ.

Several boats were found in the inner shrine, together with canoe paddles, similar to those used centuries later by American Indians.

There are a number of statues of animals, with the coloring fine and fresh. There are bulls, cats and wolf-like figures with fiercely glowing eyes.

REHABILITATION WORK IN COUNTY AIDED BY STATE

One man will soon be wearing an artificial arm as the result of the efforts of the Greene County Red Cross. As the result of an accident recently his left arm had to be amputated four inches above the elbow which prevented him from "carrying on" in his previous occupation of farming. The Red Cross knowing him through his son, an ex-soldier, explained the benefits offered by the state to handicapped persons, of which he knew nothing.

Miss Cary Abercrombie, of the State Department of Rehabilitation accompanied the Red Cross Secretary Wednesday to the home of this man. Final arrangements for securing an artificial arm at state expense were made. Later, if he is unable to carry on at his farm work the state will provide Vocational training for him whereby he will be taught some line of work that will make him self-supporting.

While making plans for him it was discovered that his nephew in a nearby city had received an injury to his hip which will prevent him from ever following his former occupation of tree dentistry. The necessary information was forwarded to the proper authorities in that city and he too will be eligible for such training.

This new law has benefited many people in Ohio. It became effective in June, 1922, and up to the present time the department has handled 2,045 cases and of this number 458 cases have been taught a trade which has overcome their handicaps and they have been placed back in the industrial world.

Grayson Jefferies of Washington C. H., is one of the men of whom the department is proud, says Miss Abercrombie. He is suffering from ankylosis of both hips—which causes them to become rigid—and necessitates the use of crutches—is taking a course in show-card writing and sign painting in Dayton, Ohio. The Red Cross and Rotary Club of that city are financing his maintenance while there. A large department store has practically assured him a position when he has completed his course.

Many persons with handicaps which would otherwise make them dependant members of society are placed on an independent self-supporting basis as the result of the rehabilitation law in Ohio.

Why the Nation Demands Calumet

—because it has more than the ordinary leavening strength; it raises millions of bakers every day to a light perfectly baked perfection that cannot be equaled.

—because it contains white-of-egg—the vital element that gives the housewives protection against using a baking powder that has lost its original leavening strength. It assures light, tender, tasty things every time you bake.

—because it is economical—pure, sure and wholesome.

That's why the sale of Calumet is over 150% greater than that of any other baking powder.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 ounces. Some baking powders come in 12 ounce instead of 16 ounce cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

PLENTY OF RICH COAL DEPOSITS IN BRITISH ISLES

London, Feb. 23.—England has been mining coal literally for ages, but there is no indication that future generations of Britons will suffer through shortage of the coal supply. The date when England's unmined stocks of coal will be exhausted is estimated to be so far in the future that present generations hardly can be expected to manifest concern regarding it.

There are a few of the coal fields now being worked that show indications of "petering out." Geologists estimate that within the next fifty years more or less, some of England's existing developed fields will have ceased to produce. What has not been generally known, however, is that there are vast undeveloped fields in the British Isles containing sufficient coal, geologists have found, to insure Britain an adequate fuel supply for at least 400 years.

INVESTIGATION MADE

The revelation of the fact that there are exceptionally rich coal fields still unexploited in England was made recently by Sir Halford Mackinder, noted geologist in a lecture. He pointed out that there are field extending over an area of several hundred square miles, in South Yorkshire and Nottinghamshire, that never have been touched. Sir Halford's revelations were discussed by Sir Richard Redmayne, Government Inspector of Mines, in an interview.

"So far as the next 400 years are concerned," Sir Richard said, "I think we may rest satisfied that the country has an ample supply of coal in the earth. I notice that Sir Halford Mackinder has stated that some of the British fields are nearly exhausted, while others are in the initial stages of exploitation. This is true. For instance, the present state of the South Staffordshire field is not comparable to that which existed in that field sixty or seventy years ago. It is what may be called a dying field, although to say it is 'nearly exhausted' would depend entirely upon the degree of exhaustion connoted by the word 'nearly.'

UNDEVELOPED FIELDS

"The hidden coal fields of South Yorkshire and Nottinghamshire are exceedingly rich, containing vast beds of most excellent coal. There is also a large undeveloped coal field lying south of Berwick on Tweed, which contains on the estimate of the Royal Commission on Coal Supply at least three hundred million tons of coal."

Great development in these "hidden" fields is expected as soon as British industry recovers the normal conditions that were shattered by the war. The initial work of exploitation already has begun, and ironmasters are purchasing rights over adjoining areas believed to contain deposits of iron ore.

MAN FROM MEXICO ENTERTAINS XENIA MASONIC MEMBERS

Frederick W. Howell, who possesses commendable stage presence, and is easily mannered on the boards, won new footlight friends here Thursday, when he appeared in the leading role of "The Man from Mexico," presented by the Community Players of Dayton, at City Hall Theater as the Masonic Club's annual Washington Birthday entertainment.

An audience composed of Masons, their relatives and friends, filled the auditorium and by applause expressed the appreciation of the work of the performers. The delightful farce vehicle written by H. A. DuSouchet offered inimical comedy situations and excellent lines that were well taken by the cast in its more than pleasing presentation.

The story is that of a man who attempts to hide from his wife the fact that he has been sentenced to jail for 30 days, by telling her he must suddenly leave for Mexico. His incarceration offers ludicrous and mirth-making situations especially when his wife learns all of the attempted trick in the last act, but when the piece ends with a happy finale that finds all hands rejoicing merrily.

Too much praise cannot be given Howell, who practically carries the production on his own shoulders through several serious situations. Because all members of the cast do not measure up to Howell's ability, this performer finds his role a most difficult one and the hard-working comedian is kept busy all the time. His performance kept the play from dragging in several places.

Miss Pauline Curtner, playing opposite Howell, also carried her part well and her interpretation of the rule, though a difficult one, was well handled. This is also true of Miss Margaret Anderson and Miss Nathalie Larson in lesser roles. Ray Welch, also in a rather heavy role, displayed marked ability. Carlton Shank carried away a particularly difficult part very well. Kenneth L. Estabrook's characterization added much to the comedy of the piece, while the performance of Russell Spindler was good. Others in the cast were Miss Gwendolyn Weeks, Winston Lee, Clifford Osmer, Everett Laymon, Russel Brundage and Robert Loser.

The Masonic Club introduced a distinct departure from its usual style of Washington Birthday entertainment in presenting the piece, but its popularity was noticed in the manner in which the new Washington Birthday program was received by an appreciative audience.

IF RHEUMATIC EAT NO SWEETS

Says glass of Salts helps to overcome Rheumatism acid.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly, keep the feet dry, avoid exposure, and above all, drink plenty of good water and avoid eating sweets of all kinds.

Rheumatism is caused by body waste and acids resulting from food fermentation. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this waste and acids, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove waste matter, also to stimulate the kidneys, thus often riding the blood of rheumatic poison.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

ALARM CLOCK GETS HENS BUSY EARLY

St. Clairsville, Ohio, Feb. 23.—An alarm clock, a mousetrap and an electric switch make up a contrivance by which State Representative D. Allan Bond is trying to increase the egg production of his 20 hens.

Bond had been rising from his downy couch at 5 o'clock in the morning and turning the lights on in his hen house. Now he sets the alarm for 4 a. m. when it begins tapping a string attached to the bell clapper sets off the mouse-killer and pulls the switch shut, turning on the lights in the hen house without disturbing the owner.

Bond believes in a long working day, for he also leaves the lights on at night. He says however, that when the lights are turned off suddenly late at night the hens are unable to find the roosts. So he has arranged a dimmer combination, by which the hens find their way to their rail beds. Then in a few minutes off go the dimmers, and everything is set for the night—until the clock, trap and switch combination get in action some eight hours later.

DECISION IN VOGT CASE

Columbus, Feb. 23.—Hearing of charges against Mayor H. H. Vogt of Massillon was concluded after the prosecution directed the testimony of several star witnesses against the mayor. Governor Donahey announced that he would hand down a decision in writing as soon as possible, after which the hearing of the other officials charged with misconduct would begin.

It was little things like this, and occasionally evidence of real affection, that kept Ann from doubting Dick. He was quick to become angry, but Ann was tactful, and as he was just as quickly over his tempers they seldom had any trouble.

Things were going well on the ranch. They had ceased talking of the injury the frost had done and were planning for the next crop. This time Ann would see that they had everything needed should another cold spell come along. She had known absolutely nothing of the needs of a ranch, the vital need of being prepared against cold weather.

But she was very quick, and the keeping of the accounts, her talks with Ned, had taught her much that women who had lived even longer in the valley had not learned.

CHAPTER XVI.

Dick was an indefatigable worker, but work alone was not enough. They must be prepared for every emergency.

"You'll be the boss rancher in the valley if you keep on," Dick said to Ann, as she told of her plans. "Even if we have only a two by four ranch."

"It won't always be a two by four," she told him. "And it is better to have a small ranch whose yield we can take care of than a bigger one until we too grow bigger. You have a lot of land, if we can keep it. But to do that we must have good crops from the land under cultivation. Every year that we do we can cultivate a little more."

"Right you are, boss!" Dick answered pulling the bright forelock that fell into his eyes.

"You see, Dick, we'll soon be three instead of two."

"I know, old girl!" He sobered, "and sometimes it almost scares me."

"Why, dear?" she laughed happily.

"Just because I'm a stupid man I guess—and afraid for you so far from your folks."

"I'm not afraid, Dick. We will be very happy, dear."

Ann never let Dick know how desperately she wanted her mother. Had it not been for their loss through his carelessness she might have sent for her. But it was out of the question. Mrs. Peabody could not afford the fare and now they couldn't send it to her. So Ann made ready for motherhood, happy in her thought that with the coming of a child, Dick would give up his habit of drinking, would feel his new responsibility.

Then too, Grace's parents were soon to return. When she heard it, Ann could scarcely conceal her delight.

More and more had she learned to dislike the girl, although she had fought against it. Her bold ways, her appropriation of Dick, had grown almost unbearable. But as yet Ann had so controlled herself there had been no open rupture.

"How can you stand it, Ann?" Bessied. "I'm glad—I can't help it—that she has transferred her affections from Ned. But you are so awfully unhappy."

"She doesn't mean anything, Besse. She's—well—just that kind. If she was with any other man it would be the same."

"I don't agree with you, else why hasn't she acted the same with Hugh Norton? He's single and she would hurt no one. But she acts to me as if she were trying to throw him with you—to make Dick think you—"

Ann was horrified! She care for anyone but Dick! It was ridiculous. Yet after this she noted that Grace did seem to throw Hugh with her, that she hinted they were pleased to have it so.

It made Ann self-conscious when with Hugh, made her flush and act uncomfortable, so giving point to what Besse had said. Grace noticed, and laughingly said to Dick:

"Ann and Hugh are falling in love—isn't it a scream?"

To Be Continued.

Firemen Digging In Debris for Remains of Others Believed Dead

Kansas City, Kas., Feb. 23.—Twelve charred bodies have been recovered from the ruins of a two-story brick and frame building destroyed by fire early today.

It is believed 15 of the 20 roomers trapped on the second floor perished. Six are believed to have been children. Firemen are digging in the debris to find other victims.

The bodies were recovered several hours after the flames were discovered.

Elisha Colston, husband and father of two of the victims, escaped with one child, Helen, but was unable to return for the remainder of his family.

The flames were discovered by a passerby shortly after 1:30 o'clock this morning. They spread rapidly. Within half an hour the roof fell in.

The ground floor was occupied by a garage. A number of automobiles were destroyed. Origin of the fire has not been determined. The money loss was $20,000.

LIVING WAGE IS BACKED BY W. G. M'ADOO IN TALK

Scores Railway Labor Board for Not Adhering To That Principle

Washington, Feb. 23.—William Gibbs McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, director general of railroads and a potential candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1924, came out today with a vigorous declaration in favor of "the living wage" for American labor.

In the forthcoming issue of Labor, organ of the American Federation of Labor, McAdoo severely criticizes the Railway Labor Board for its rejection of the "living wage principle" and gives his own definition of what constitutes such a wage.

McAdoo's statement is regarded as holding considerable political significance.

The minimum wage, McAdoo asserts, should be "sufficient to enable a thrifty industrious worker to maintain himself and family in reasonable comfort, educate his children, and save something against emergency and old age."

END OF SENATE FIGHT ON BILL NOW IN SIGHT

Ship Subsidy to Be Abandoned By Its Supporters.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The administration ship subsidy bill, stricken by the sweeping attacks of a coalition filibuster in the senate appeared practically abandoned to defeat this afternoon.

"Gentlemen's agreement" was reached at noon between administration leaders and chiefs of the filibustering "battalion of death" to adjourn at 6 o'clock tonight for the purpose of considering bills on the Senate calendar at tomorrow's session. This decision to end night sessions to take up legislation, other than the subsidy, was interpreted by the filibusters as a tacit admission that all efforts to enact the bill would be dropped.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The end of the fight for the shipping bill is in sight.

The bill, it is said, will be abandoned by its Republican supporters, who have been trying in the face of heavy odds to carry out the president's wishes for enactment, and will be sent back to the commerce committee, to die on the committee files when the congressional session closes.

Plans formed by leaders for and against the bill call for the action to be taken either tonight or Saturday.

It may be decided to permit the filibuster, which has been conducted against the bill for three days and four nights, to run along this evening, in which event Saturday morning will witness the adoption of a motion which will recommit the bill.

President Harding already has been informed by his advisers in the senate that further efforts to break the filibuster, which has brought about complete stoppage of all legislation, will be useless, and that so long as the filibuster continues it will be impossible to get the shipping bill still to a vote.

The motion to recommit the bill, it is understood, will be made by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, acting Democratic leader. A canvass of the senate is said to have shown that in addition to practically the solid Democratic vote, the motion will receive the votes of a sufficient number of Republicans to insure its adoption.

The filibuster was continued throughout the entire session, the longest speech being made by Senator McKellar of Tennessee. Portions of his speech consisted of reading of speeches made by Senators Smoot and Cummins in the ship purchase bill. Senator Gooding of Idaho also took up about two hours with a speech on the stabilization of wheat prices. Brookhart of Iowa then got the floor and made a speech requiring four hours to deliver.

In the course of his debate Brookhart declared that the time will come when members of the farm bloc in the senate will appear on the floor of the senate attired in brogan shoes and overalls.

CORTNER CASE IS ADJOURNED; DEFENSE ACTS

Adjournment Taken Until Some Time Next Week in Springfield

WANT CASE DISMISSED

Two Motions Filed by Attorneys for Alleged Klan Leader in Court

Springfield, Feb. 23.—Adjournment until some time next week was taken in the case of W. M. Cortner, kleagle of the local Ku Klux Klan, charged with "riotous conspiracy," after the filing of two motions by the defense late yesterday.

One motion asks for the dismissal of the case and the return of the property seized in the raid February 12 and the other asks that all evidence presented by the state be thrown out.

The hearing will probably be resumed Wednesday of next week. Police Judge Golden C. Davis said he wished to take time to look into the competency of the evidence presented tentatively, and to prepare his rulings on the motion.

A bitter denunciation of the Klan and its principles by Special Prosecutor Malone, and a parading of the defects of the state's case by Judge Charles Orbison, Indianapolis, attorney for the defense, closed the hearing yesterday.

Columbus, Feb. 23.—Statements attributed to Rev. Charles Woodward, pastor of the Broad Street church of Christ, by Edward McDonald at the trial of William Cortner, kleagle of the Springfield Ku Klux Klan, were denied by Rev. Mr. Woodward.

Rev. Mr. Woodward said he was misquoted in statements attributed to him by Mr. McDonald relative to the growing strength of the Jews, and that 85 per cent of the public offices were held by Catholics.

"The Klan is not anti-anything and recognizes just as I do, the right of every man to worship God as his conscience dictates," he said. He also denied saying immigration should be stopped, but he did advocate its restrictions he said.

Nash asserts that he is not responsible. Any breaking out of the skin, even itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Menthol-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist.

Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Rowles' Menthol-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cold cream.

PEACE SOUGHT IN GERMANY BY ALL CONCERNED

French and German interests in "Sounding Out" Campaign

Berlin, Feb. 23.—That there is a "sounding out" campaign going on between French and German industries for a settlement of the Ruhr question is the persistent report in Reichstag, banking and bourse circles known to have affiliations with German industries.

These "soundings" are based on the understanding that the Ruhr invasion in its essence is nothing but a military raid by France's industrial captains on Germany's coal and iron mines after the German industrialists had turned down a demand for the combination in a trust of Franco-German industries on conditions laid down by the French.

The French industrialists demanded a 60 per cent participation, which was refused by Stinnes, Thyssen, Krupp and others. Stinnes declared that he was not seriously opposed to the scheme in itself, but would not enter it on that basis.

The present "soundings" are declared to be in the direction of ascertaining what percentage the German industrialists are now willing to give and the French ready to accept, for the creation of a gigantic German-Franco-Belgian coal, iron and steel trust as the most formidable capitalist bloc in all Europe.

One of the chief obstacles to the carrying out of such a plan, which is to include the definite settlement of the figures for reparations, is the fear of revolt on the part of the German workmen, who are already being told that they are sold to the French capitalists.

Partly for the purpose of averting that feeling on the part of the workmen was the recent agreement made with the workmen that in the event the French do not win in the Ruhr with their military machine, they, the workmen, will be taken into the German industries on an interest sharing basis.

Counties special taxes collected, including assessments for street improvements, street cleaning, oiling, etc., amounted to $63,093.36. This amount is distributed as follows:

Friday noon this man left the state penitentiary at Columbus in fact a free man, although technically still within the scope of the arm of the law, to be whisked by fastest train to Wilmington, and there have the court that sentenced him wrongfully to serve sentence for a crime that he did not commit, attempt to efface the damage done, by wiping the stain against his name from the records of justice in the Clinton County seat.

ROTARY DELEGATES ATTEND MEETING IN SPRINGFIELD FRIDAY

It was last July that McKinney was found guilty of the murder of Emery McCreight, Washington policeman during the preceding February, and sentenced to life in the state penitentiary without hope of pardon. Since that time he has been punished to save another, who not until he was trapped months afterward, admitted that he was guilty of the crime for which McKinney was being punished. It was when Louis Vandervoort, 21 of near Jamestown, pleaded guilty to the crime and was sentenced to the penitentiary for life that McKinney saw first glimpse of possible freedom penetrating behind the gloomy enclosure of the state prison.

Mrs. McKinney, whose faith in her husband's innocence never waned, and who gave to the world a wonderful example of wifely devotion in working in a restaurant and taking in washing that she might have money to aid her husband in his fight for liberty, greeted McKinney for the first time since Vandervoort's confession at the penitentiary Friday. The woman, who has haunted the Court House at Wilmington since learning of Vandervoort's action, accompanied Sheriff Will Kirk and Deputy Will Smith to Columbus to return her husband to Wilmington.

The meeting of husband and wife was staged against the forbidding background of penitentiary walls, but lacked nothing in warmth because of the drab and cold surroundings. McKinney, who philosophically greeted news of his coming freedom several days ago and his wife both remained calm although the atmosphere of their common joy pervaded the place. The quartette left the penitentiary at 12:05 o'clock and was expected to arrive in Wilmington at about three o'clock.

Here an unfortunate circumstance may again thwart the immediate freedom of McKinney, and again bring disappointment to his wife, who has been impatient for his deliverance. Mrs. McKinney herself took the appeal papers to the Court of Appeals in Cincinnati from Wilmington, where a remanding of the case to the Clinton County Common Pleas Court for a new trial was obtained.

The only legal procedure which stands in the way of McKinney's freedom is the filing of a nolle prosequi by Prosecuting Attorney E. J. West when McKinney faces Judge F. M. Clevenger, who committed him to prison. But Judge West was out of Wilmington Friday. Early in the afternoon efforts to reach him were unavailing and if he does not return on the same train with the sheriff's party McKinney will have to be locked up in the Clinton County Jail until he arrives.

If West can be reached by telephone, however, the legal formality can be taken care of over the wire, it is said and if such arrangement can be carried out it will be done in order not to keep McKinney waiting longer.

There is another charge against McKinney to be settled, but that too will be but a formality. For Judge Clevenger announced Friday afternoon that when McKinney faces him to have his sentence annulled that he will also suspend the fine of $2,000 and costs which is hanging over him on a bootleg charge.

It is believed of the court that McKinney has been punished enough for his offense and the State will not demand his pound of flesh by insisting on him satisfying the bootlegging claim. The suspension of sentence however will be contingent on McKinney's promise of good behavior.

Whether McKinney and his wife will go to Cincinnati where they made their home before his arrest, or whether they will go to his relatives at Bluffton, Indiana, is not known.

At Bluffton the McKinney family is respectable and esteemed in the community. McKinney himself is a high school graduate and has had two years' university work and a business college course. His brother is a minister at Franklin, Ind.

It is estimated that members of McKinney's family spent more than $6,000 in an attempt to save him from conviction for murder and obtain his release. Whether they will be made whole in this amount by the state is a matter of conjecture. There is no recourse that can be offered by Common Pleas Court, but there is a possibility of the State Legislature appropriating the amount to restore. In so far as possible the injury that has been done an innocent man.

Two of the cases, if the charges included therein are proven in court, will involve several former bureau officials in a conspiracy agreement, but the remainder will show mismanagement more than anything else, say members of the senate committee.

Just what part of the more than $2,000,000 spent by the bureau since its organization has been wasted the senators refused to estimate. National offices of various ex-service organizations claim the amount will approximate the one hundred million mark.

Recommendations of the committee will be brought before the senate next week. Charges of waste and extravagance submitted before the senate, the department of justice or the lower house of congress affect the following projects: Rental of ground for a hospital at Camp Kearney, Cal.; sales of property to be improved for a hospital at Aspinwall, Pa.; contracts for hospitals at Camp Lewis, Wash., and Livermore, Cal.; rentals paid for the district office at New York City; sale of property for a project at Chelsea, N. ## FRANCE'S INVASION OF GERMANY LATEST ANGLE OF EUROPEAN MUDDLE

A few days ago, in the British Parliament, former Premier Lloyd George, made a notable speech. Mr. Lloyd George said he considered the French Government committed to a policy of irretrievable disaster. There had been nothing in the reparations problem, which, in his opinion, demanded such a violent step, and the disquieting feature was that there must be some reason beyond reparations, since clearly reparations was not the object in view.

It would be very difficult for France to retrace her steps while the pride of both countries was engaged. The pride of France and Germany had been aroused. These countries stood in a position of gleaming defiance.

Arguing that revolution in Germany would be a greater danger for France, Great Britain and Europe than militarism in Germany, and that the French action was a repetition of Germany's blunder in 1914, the former Premier said he was only entreating Premier Bonar Law to take a further step, and take it now.

He did not believe that Great Britain could succeed alone. It was impossible for reparations and restorations program to succeed without America. Americans had the world's gold locked in their chests and were suffering from indigestion and surfeit. They had a moral responsibility: They had shared in the war and helped to break up Germany. Their president had signed the peace treaty, and, although the Senate had rejected it, that action was not on the ground of reparations, but because it was unable to accept the League of Nations. Americans had morally accepted the whole position.

Mr. Lloyd George made considerable play with Secretary Hughes' recent suggestions, and he wanted to know if the Government was sounding the Washington Government as to whether they were standing by the proposals they themselves had made to meet the probable contingency of failure of the Paris conference."

Declaring it was needless to revise the whole treaty, as the Laborites demanded, but that everything essential could be carried within the four corners of the treaty, Mr. Lloyd George concluded:

"I entreat the Government to take the initiative, first, by approaching the United States, and then with the United States approaching France. Then, I believe, both together will be able to surmount the difficulty."

Mr. Bonar Law expressed surprise at the amendment alluding to "recent indications of the willingness of America to participate in a conference," and he declared: "There has been no word written or spoken by any representative of the American Government that has suggested willingness to intervene in the quarrels of Europe."

The Premier pointed out that Mr. Hughes referred to the possibility of "distinguished Americans" being willing to serve. "Distinguished Americans," said Mr. Bonar Law, were not the American Government. It was not an indication that the American Government was willing to intervene.

FUTURE TRANSPORTATION.

Henry Ford is said to be planning for a big fleet of barges on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers to handle both finished products and raw materials, including coal from his West Virginia mines. He is also said to have his eye on a new canal route between Detroit and Cincinnati, in which the federal government is interested. When that canal is ready for use, he will place a fleet of barges upon it immediately.

Then, it is said, Mr. Ford will proceed to double track and electrify his Detroit, Toledo and Ironton railroad, and build a concrete highway all along the line, parallel with the tracks, for the use of motor trucks.

These may be only so many new "Ford yarns." Henry Ford is rapidly developing into a sort of industrial myth. Nevertheless, the moves suggested are logical moves for an alert and bold captain of industry to make.

More than that, they probably indicate the trend of American transportation in the near future.

Waterways with power barge and electrified railroads and solid highways with easy grades for heavy motor truck traffic—who ever gambles on those, and has a big enough stake to see the thing through, may win.

TRANS-OCEANIC CONVERSATION

So young is the telephone that its 50th birthday will not be celebrated until 1926!

Great has been its development, however, and just how great is emphasized by the fact that a few days ago New York talked across a distance of 3,400 miles to an English audience for nearly two hours, and transmitted messages—speeches, really—that were heard distinctly and clearly understood.

This is some progress from that eventful day in March, 1876, when Alexander Graham Bell spoke over a wire and was heard by his colleague in an adjoining room of the same building. That first telephone message traveled about 100 feet. When New York talked to England the other evening, voices were flung 3,400 miles over land and sea, only 70 miles which was by wire.

STALLING FOR AN EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

Mr. Clarence Fisher is ambitious to become a railroader and has secured permission to learn the duty of a fireman, on the Pan-Handle, entering his work a day or two ago.

Mr. O. A. Spahr of this city, is today announced as a candidate for county treasurer, subject to the Republican primary. Mr. Spahr has been a dry goods merchant in Xenia for many years and is popular throughout the country.

The Elks held a session of more than usual interest last night. Twelve candidates were initiated after which an elaborate banquet was served enjoyed by ninety members of the order. A report was made that the lease for the new home had been signed by the trustees.

On Wednesday morning the mercury ranged from 12 to 20 degrees below zero.

THE METHODICAL WOMAN.

There are some women who are beautifully and enviably neat and methodical. I am not one of them, so I can write impersonally without preaching, only with wonder at them.

They are the kind that can make out marketing and shopping lists, and when they go out, purchase everything on the list and never anything besides, carefully calculating beforehand what it will cost, and paying that much and no more. They are not like the girl who went out in freezing January weather to buy much needed waterproof shoes and returned bearing a beautiful new silk bathing suit for next July. I always return without at least one or two items not crossed off my shopping list (when I make one.) And when I do make one I usually forget three or four things that should have been put down.

These are the women who never have a button loose on their shoes nor a hook without its eye securely fastened, nor a snap fastener that doesn't work. They never have hairs that straggle down the backs of their necks, nor collars that aren't the last thing.

Day:—It is quite possible that you have not attained your full height at 17 years of age. In your gym work at school take all the exercises that will elongate the spinal column and be particular to stand correctly so you will have full credit for every inch of your height.

V. J.:—The exercises for developing the throat are those from rolling the head around over the shoulders, first to the right and then to the left. Also, drop the head forward as far as possible and then throw it backward. In each of these exercises be sure to hold for an instant when the exercise is completed and then tense all the muscles. Massage into the tissues either olive oil or a building cream.

THE GAZETTE And THE RE. BLICAN Information Box

All questions asked by our readers will be answered in this column. Medical and legal subjects are barred. Address all queries to "Information" this paper.

Reader—O. K. is said, on one hand, to be derived from a dispatch signed by Andrew Jackson and labeled O. K., which, through his ignorance of spelling, he meant as Old Korrect, abbreviated. Ex-President Wilson, on the other hand, derives the letters from an Indian word "Okch," meaning good or perfect.

Steady Reader—No, you are wrong. Cats are not able to see in absolute darkness, although they can see in less light than we can. Their ability to seemingly see in the dark is constituted in a pair of most sensible feelers and whiskers that act as guides and eyes.

The only good corn is a dead corn. A few drops of "Gets-It" will quickly start any corn or cabbages on the way to "the happy hunting ground." "Gets-It" brings instant relief from all problems of corn growing. Just add water to "Gets-It" to remove a dozen cobs, hard or soft, old or new. Costs you nothing if it fails—but it doesn't fail. word in neatness. They are such good examples, these methodical women. We envy them, we strive to imitate them, we know that we are going to fall—and sometimes we don't even care.

I know all this sounds like heresy on my part, for I have recently been preaching the virtues of hair nets.

Today's Talk

ON MANAGING LIFE ARIGHT

I have met many managers in my brief day. I have studied them. I have made a note of their good and bad points.

But he who manages life aright is greater than them all.

Greater than he who manages a great business or a farm, or an orchestra, or a nation.

I think it was Solomon who said that he who ruled his own spirit was greater than he who ruled a city. But even so wise a man as Solomon didn't put that truth strong enough.

He who rules and manages his own life—having a clear understanding of the fundamentals of life—is greater than all the other managers of earth.

It was Stevenson who once wrote in his Travels of a Donkey, that "we speak of hardships, but the true hardship is to be a dull fool, and permitted to mismanage life in our own dull and foolish manner."

That was Stevenson's unique way of saying that a man should be permitted to be himself, without outside interference, and to go ahead being a man, and nothing but a man.

Ah, if we could only with courage plan out a definite course for the life of ours and stick to it through thick and thin, in what a refreshing joy we would find ourselves engaged!

It's a complicated life. It's full of mystery, and the more complex things become, so that it takes an even balance, and a high sense of humor as well, to keep our smiles on straight and our hearts free from sloppy sentimentality.

Let's accept life, play it in all its angles—and be big and thorough at it!

You will be amazed to see how the use of "Bull" Durham will cut down the cost of your smoking.

How is it possible to give you quality at the low cost of 10 cents for 50 cigarettes?

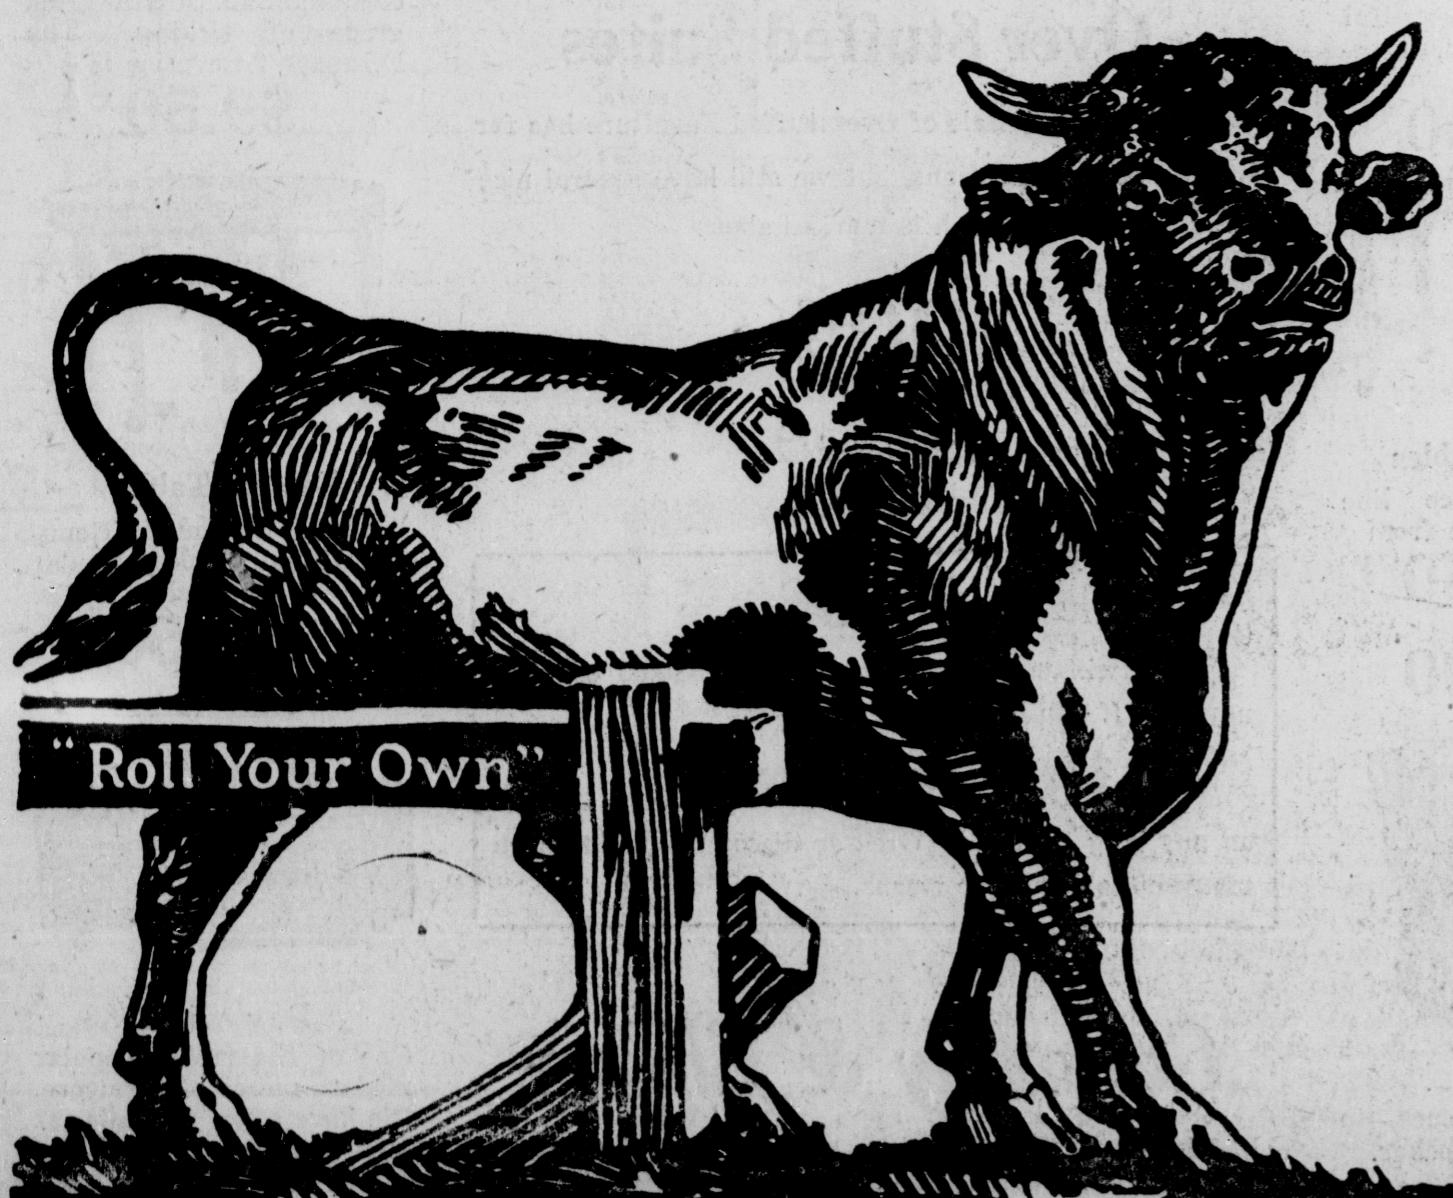

Here's one reason: The government tax alone on 50 machine-made cigarettes is 15 cents—5 CENTS MORE THAN THE COST OF 50 "BULL" DURHAM CIGARETTES TO YOU!

The average smoker saves $1 to $1.50 a week by "rolling his own" from "Bull"—or from $52 to $78 a year. This makes quite a Christmas fund—or pays for a fine trip.

CHICAGO KIDS GO TO SCHOOL IN TAXICABS

Chicago, Feb. 23.—Maybe there be barefoot boys who chew tobacco and struggle to school with fishing tackle flung over sunburned shoulders, May be there be. But no one in Chicago knows it.

Every day more and more children here are going to their three R's in taxicabs. This was revealed by statistics that virtually substantiated the widespread claim that Chicago is America's worst city for motor car deaths. There were sixty-three killed by February 6.

One company has 117 standing orders for a taxicab morning and evening to carry some child to and from school. The number is increasing every day. In anticipation of a greater clientele, the corporation dispatches a different driver each day, so all may learn to care for children.

An official of the company said the practice began three years ago, when city folks became alarmed at the growth of auto accidents.

The few anxious mothers who resorted to the taxicabs so their children would not be compelled to cross dangerous streets spread an idea among others who could afford it.

TAUGHT "MODERN IDEALS."

Most of these taxi-students, all between the ages of six and ten years, live on near the North Side "Gold Coast." In this section of Chicago's affluent the children are taught modern living from birth. Maybe you think they go on the Sabbath to Sunday schools with shiny nickels for the poor box and faces and souls no less shiny. Then you're wrong. Their mothers and fathers, worn out by Saturday night dinner dances and the like, sleep late. They thrust a handful of nickels into the small lists of Kenneth and Maybell, not for the poor box, but for the automat slots. There the twentieth century fledgling buys its baked apple and oatmeal with cream.

"QUICK EATS" POPULAR

This automat, incidentally of the kind usually confined to districts where appetites are in a hurry and not very choice, "caught on" with the elite of Sheridan road and Wilson avenue overnight. Until after midnight it is thronged, some of its patrons in evening dress. Out for a walk you know.

Wilson avenue is a wilderness of restaurants, beauty shops, dress makers places, music stores, delicatessens and other establishments that go with modern living. There is not one old-fashioned meat market where an old-fashioned wife could by an old-fashioned inch steak. If she could what would she do with it in a apartment hotel—fry it in the phonograph? It's a great life, but death to the bankroll.

What Lydia E. Pinkham's

Did for Her

Kansas City, Mo.—"I was left in a very serious condition after childbirth and no one thought I could ever be any better. Then came the 'Change of Life' and I was not prepared for what I had to suffer. I had to go to bed at times to be perfectly quiet as I could not even stoop down to pick anything from the floor. I did not suffer any pain, but I was decidedly nervous and could not sleep. For nearly two years I was this way, and the doctor was frank enough to tell me that he could do no more for me. Shortly after this I happened to see in a newspaper an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. In a few days the medicine was in the house and I had begun its use and I took it regularly until I was well. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to others when I have the opportunity."—Mrs. MAY LINDQUIST, 2814 Independence Ave., Kansas City, Mo.

AUTOS DEFEAT MEDWAY COLLEGIANS 31 TO 19
SPRINGFIELD HERE FRIDAY; LEGION DEFEATS THE TIGERS
MERCHANTS AND OHIO BELLS AGAIN WIN

FAMOUS AUTOS AGAIN WIN
Coach George Haller's Famous Autos, leading professional basketball team in this city, took a fall out of the Medway Collegians on the Central High court Thursday night, winning handily 31 to 19 from the team that last year claimed the Clark and Greene County court championships. The graceful and accurate basket-tossing of "Buddy" Barlow, and the crack game put up by the veteran Harry Solimano, set the locals off in front coupled with baskets by Joe Mark in the second half, after the first period had finished with the teams tied. J. Grimm's ability to connect with the net in the first period kept his team above water in the opening session, and two free shots by Solimano only enabled the locals to eke out a tie with the visitors.

"Peek" Koshy began to watch J. Grimm more carefully in the second period however, with the result that this lad did not make another counter from the floor the rest of the game. In the meantime Barlow, Mark, and Solimano had started the heavy artillery and a comfortable lead was soon hung up on Xenia's side of the ledger. Solimano was high man with 13 points and Barlow a close second with 12, Mark contributed the rest of the scoring. J. Grimm and Uhrig made 17 of the visitors points between them. The Springfield lads have been going at a great clip this season and hold victories over such quintets as Stivers High of Dayton, Newark High Akron South High, Urbana and Piqua High Schools.

On the other hand the locals have not been exhibiting a very good brand of the indoor court game but they are promising the fans a reversal in form in Friday night's game and are planning on handing the visitors the short end of the score.

Springfield High will lineup with Simmons and Keyser at the forwards, Bauer at center and Helwig, Brant or

So far as dose is concerned the Miami-Jacobs team ought to give the Merchants a merry time of it. Dave Reese will officiate. The first game will get under way at 7 o'clock.

LEGION TEAM WINS AGAIN

Xenia John Roan Post basketball team added another win to its string of victories Thursday night, defeating the Tigers of Springfield by a 13 to 11 score.

The game was not as good as in the past. The locals did not play their usual brand of high class ball, their basket shooting being poor while the passwork was the only feature. The Tigers presented a good combination but if the Legion had played as they have in recent games the Clark County lads would have been beaten worse.

AIRPLANES ARE BOON TO ARCTIC POWER STATION

London, Feb. 23.—Up in the White North, inside the Arctic Circle, an air service has been regularly maintained for the last two years.

On the Luleaf, in the north of Sweden, and some thirty miles inside the Arctic Circle, lies the Porjus power station. This station obtains its power from lakes in the mountains at Suorva, about 70 miles northwest from Porjus.

A little community of about 400 souls have grown up at Suorva, and for several years they were almost completely shut off from the world except for occasional communication by boats in the summer and by sleighs in the winter.

START AIR SERVICE

Two years ago it was decided to link up Suorva and Porjus by an air service in order to give them facilities of communication, which would bring them in constant touch with the outer world.

For this purpose experimental flights began at the end of August, 1920, with a "Fairey" machine, propelled by a 350 horsepower Rolls-Royce engine. The experiment was successful but on account of the extremely bad weather conditions in the mountains it was evident that a smaller and lighter plane would be better.

To this end an "Avro", with a 130 horsepower Clerget engine, was acquired and the service was installed. This machine has proved a great success. It is fitted with floats in the summer and with skids in the winter, and though the cold is most severe at times and the weather extremely changeable, this service has hardly ever been interrupted and no serious accident has ever taken place.

The average number of return journeys per month has been nearly 25, and during the winter months there are only three or four hours of daylight.

COLD NO TROUBLE

The cold has rarely interfered with flying and it has been found possible to fly with the thermometer at 40 degrees below zero. Thus air-cooled engines are more practical than water-cooled.

The worst month last year was February when the regularity of the flight diagram shows 51 per cent. In January it was 58 per cent, March and April 78 per cent; May, 89 per cent; June and July, 100 per cent.

In August the curve began to fall, and in September it had reached 81 per cent, with a slight rise again in October.

Along this route are met quite a number of whirlwinds, which draw up snow or water into columns of about 25 yards high, and sometimes as many as ten of these spirals have been seen at one time.

WIND IS CHANGEABLE

On most of the route, owing to the high mountains, only two winds are found—northwest and southeast. But these have been known to change places in an hour and a pilot starting from Suorva, with a northwest wind blowing at the rate of 22 miles per hour, has finished in a southeast wind of 44 miles per hour, and all in the space of 60 minutes.

Maintenance of a regular service has had an extraordinary psychological effect on the inhabitants. Knowledge that, in case of need, they can obtain help, medical attendance, provisions, and stores, as well as newspapers and mails, has had a great effect.

Stearns' Electric Paste

is recognized as the guaranteed exterminator for Rats, Mice, Ants, Cockroaches and Waterbugs.

Don't waste time trying to kill these pests with powders, liquids or any experimental preparations.

COLUMBUS, OHIO.

Columbus Woman Tells How Ka-diok Relieved Her Ills in Very Short Time.

Ka-di-ok is designed to relieve stomach, liver and kidney trouble, poor blood, and a run-down, debilitated system. That it fulfills its purpose in the majority of cases is evidenced by the numerous testimonies which are daily received, testifying to the way Ka-di-ok has helped them. Among those recently received is the following from Mrs. Paul Christison, 4725 Madison Avenue, Columbus, who says: "Until recently I suffered constantly from indigestion and stomach trouble. After eating the simplest sort of food or even taking a small drink of water or other liquid I would almost immediately have the most miserable pains in my stomach. I felt continually tired and sore and was very nervous. My complexion was very yellow; like I might have jaundice. I was advised to try Ka-di-ok and started taking a treatment a few weeks ago. The results have been most gratifying. At that time I have increased in weight several pounds and can eat anything with relish and without my stomach being affected in the least. I am now feeling and looking as well as I have been for a long time. I can truthfully say that Ka-di-ok has done me more good than I ever expected and am glad to give this testimonial for the good it may do others."

Ka-di-ok can be obtained at Sayre & Humphrey's Drug Store, Xena.

IRON DOORS CHARGED WITH ELECTRICITY WILL GUARD OLD TOMB AGAINST GRAVE ROBBERS

Luxor, Egypt, Feb. 23.—The most modern of safeguards, including great iron doors charged with electricity, will be utilized to keep off grave robbers when the 3,000 year-old tomb of Tut-Ankh-Amen is re-sealed by Lord Carnarvon's Egyptologist exploration party, it was learned today. These precautions were taken in addition to tons of limestone that will be poured over the ancient tomb.

Among the latest visitors were a number of Paris and London dress-designers, seeking ideas. They said they expected the "Tut-Ankh-Amen gown" to be all the rage later in the year. It will be a long robe with flowing skirts.

Extensive precautions will be taken against tunnelling into the tomb from some of the nearby hills.

82 YEARS OLD AND AS GOOD AS A YOUNGSTER

"7 or 8 years ago I was a very sick man. Doctors said catarrh and bowels, a trouble of stomach and bowels, affecting the liver and heart. For more than a year I wanted to die, but could not. Upon the advice of a friend I tried May's Wonderful Remedy, and although 82 years old I now feel as good as a youngster." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. Two years ago it was decided to link up Suorva and Porjus by an air service in order to give them facilities of communication, which would bring them in constant touch with the outer world.

For this purpose experimental flights began at the end of August,

with a "Fairey" machine, propelled by a 350 horsepower Rolls-Royce engine. The experiment was successful but on account of the extremely bad weather conditions in the mountains it was evident that a smaller and lighter plane would be better.

To this end an "Avro", with a 130 horsepower Clerget engine, was acquired and the service was installed. This machine has proved a great success. It is fitted with floats in the summer and with skids in the winter, and though the cold is most severe at times and the weather extremely changeable, this service has hardly ever been interrupted and no serious accident has ever taken place.

The average number of return journeys per month has been nearly 25, and during the winter months there are only three or four hours of daylight.

A three-piece woolen suit—flame red, the beautiful fibral embroidery alive with brilliant blue and green and violet! With what grateful relief the eye rests on the gray silk crepe bodice top which may be seen beneath the open coat—although this, too, partakes of the color feast in red red embroidered motifs.

Perhaps you, dear reader, may not ever care or dare to abandon yourself to such an orgy of color, but I pass this suit on to you for such suggestions.

Why the Nation Demands Calumet

—because it has more than the ordinary leavening strength; it raises millions of bakenings every day to a light perfectly baked perfection that cannot be equaled.

—because it contains white-of-egg—the vital element that gives the housewives protection against using a baking powder that has lost its original leavening strength. It assures light, tender, tasteful things every time you bake.

—because it is economical—pure, sure and wholesome.

That's why the sale of Calumet is over 150% greater than that of any other baking powder.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 ounces. Some baking powders come in 12 ounce instead of 16 ounce cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Miss Cary Abercrombie, of the State Department of Rehabilitation accompanied the Red Cross Secretary Wednesday to the home of this man. Final arrangements for securing an artificial arm at state expense were made. Later, if he is unable to carry on at his farm work the state will provide vocational training for him whereby he will be taught some of work that will make him self-supporting.

While making plans for him it was discovered that his nephew in a nearby city had received an injury to his hip which will prevent him from ever following his former occupation of tree dentistry. The necessary information was forwarded to the proper authorities in that city and he too will be eligible for such training.

This new law has benefited many people in Ohio. It became effective in June, 1922, and up to the present time the department has handled 2,045 cases and of this number 455 cases have been taught a trade which has overcome their handicap and they have been placed back in the industrial world.

Grayson Jefferies of Washington C. H., is one of the men of whom the department is proud, says Miss Abercrombie. He is suffering from ankylosis of both hips—which causes them to become rigid—and necessitates the use of crutches—is taking a course in show-card writing and sign painting in Dayton, Ohio. The Red Cross and Rotary Club of that city are financing his maintenance while there. A large department store has practically assured him a position when he has completed his course.

Many persons with handicaps which would otherwise make them dependent members of society are placed on an independent self-supporting basis as the result of the rehabilitation law in Ohio.

Thin? Run-down? Sure Way to Get Right Weight

Increase Your Red-Blood-Cells. That's the Sure Way! S. S. Builds Blood-Cells; This Means Strength!

Do you know why insurance companies refuse to insure a great many men because they are under weight? Simply because to be under weight often proves low fighting-power in the body. It often means you are missing nerve-power, which means you are losing blood, means health, minus energy, minus vitality. It is serious to be minus, but the moment you increase the number of your red-blood-cells, you begin to become plus. That's why S. S. S. since 1826, has meant to thousands of us that right medicine plus plus their strength. Hollow cheeks fill out. You stop being a calamity-looker. You inspire confidence. Your body fills to the point of power, your flesh becomes firmer, the age lines that come from thinness disappear, you are younger, stronger, healthier, and you feel it too, all over your body. More red-blood-cells! S. S. S. will build them. Ladies and gentlemen, a pecky, bony face doesn't make you look very important or pretty, does it? Take S. S. S. It contains only pure vegetable medicinal ingredients. S. S. S. is sold at drug stores in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

PLENTY OF RICH COAL DEPOSITS IN BRITISH ISLES

London, Feb. 23.—England has been mining coal literally for ages, but there is no indication that future generations of Britons will suffer through shortage of the coal supply. The date when England's unmined stocks of coal will be exhausted is estimated to be so far in the future that present generations hardly can be expected to manifest concern regarding it.

There are a few of the coal fields now being worked that show indications of " petering out." Geologists estimate that within the next fifty years more or less, some of England's existing developed fields will have ceased to produce. What has not been generally known, however, is that there are vast undeveloped fields in the British Isles containing sufficient coal, geologists have found, to insure Britain an adequate fuel supply for at least 400 years.

INVESTIGATION MADE

The revelation of the fact that there are exceptionally rich coal fields still unexploited in England was made recently by Sir Halford Mackinder, noted geologist in a lecture. He pointed out that there are field extending over an area of several hundred square miles, in South Yorkshire and Nottinghamshire, that never have been touched. Sir Halford's revelations were discussed by Sir Richard Redmayne, Government Inspector of Mines, in an interview.

"So far as the next 400 years are concerned," Sir Richard said, "I think we may rest satisfied that the country has an ample supply of coal in the earth. I notice that Sir Halford Mackinder has stated that some of the British fields are nearly exhausted, while others are in the initial stages of exploitation. This is true. For instance, the present state of the South Staordshire field is not comparable to that which existed in that field sixty or seventy years ago. It is what may be called a dying field, although to say it is nearly exhausted would depend entirely upon the degree of exhaustion connoted by the word 'nearly.'

UNDEVELOPED FIELDS

The hidden coal fields of South Yorkshire and Nottinghamshire are exceedingly rich, containing vast beds of most excellent coal. There is also a large undeveloped coal field lying south of Berwick on Tweed, which contains on the estimate of the Royal Commission on Coal Supply at least three hundred million tons of coal."

Great development in these "hidden" fields is expected as soon as British industry recovers the normal conditions that were shattered by the war. The initial work of exploitation already has begun, and ironmasters are purchasing rights over adjoining areas believed to contain deposits of iron ore.

MAN FROM MEXICO ENTERTAINS XENIA MASONIC MEMBERS

Frederick W. Howell, who possesses commendable stage presence, and is easily mannered on the boards won new footlight friends here Thursday, when he appeared in the leading role of "The Man from Mexico," presented by the Community Players of Dayton, at City Hall Theater as the Masonic Club's annual Washington Birthday entertainment.

An audience composed of Masons, their relatives and friends, filled the auditorium and by applause expressed the appreciation of the work of the performers. The delightful farce vehicle, written by H. A. DuSouchet offered inimitable comedy situations and excellent lines that were well taken by the cast in its more than pleasing presentation.

The story is that of a man who attempts to hide from his wife the fact that he has been sentenced to jail for 30 days, by telling her he must suddenly leave for Mexico. His incarceration offers ludicrous and mirth-making situations especially when his wife learns all of the attempted trick in the last act, but when the piece ends with a happy finale that finds all hands rejoicing merrily.

Too much praise cannot be given Howell, who practically carries the production on his own shoulders through several serious situations. Because all members of the cast do not measure up to Howell's ability, this performer finds his role a most difficult one and the hard-working comedian is kept busy all of the time. His performance kept the play from dragging in several places.

Miss Pauline Curtner, playing opposite Howell, also carried her part well and her interpretation of the rule, though a difficult one, was well handled. This is also true of Miss Margaret Anderson and Miss Nathalie Larson in lesser roles. Ray Welch, also in a rather heavy role, displayed marked ability. Carlton Shank carried away a particularly difficult part very well. Kenneth L. Estabrook's characterization added much to the comedy of the piece, while the performance of Russell Spindler was good. Others in the cast were Miss Gwendolyn Weeks, Winston Lee, Clifford Osmer, Everett Laymon, Russel Brundige and Robert Loser.

The Masonic Club introduced a distinct departure from its usual style of Washington Birthday entertainment in presenting the piece, but its popularity was noticed in the manner in which the new Washington Birthday program was received by an appreciative audience.

MRS. RAYMOND BULL DIES EARLY FRIDAY

Mrs. Carrie Bull, 30, wife of Raymond Bull, prominent farmer of east of Cedarville, and well known young woman of the county, died of her home on the Columbus pike, three miles east of Cedarville, Friday morning at 6 o'clock. Death was the result of four weeks illness from pneumonia and complications. Mrs. Bull became ill about a month ago, pneumonia and other serious diseases developing.

Mrs. Bull was before her marriage Miss Carrie Townsley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Townsley of Cedarville. She was well known in the vicinity, her death coming as a shock to relatives and friends. She was born near Cedarville March 19, 1893, and spent all of her life in that community. She was educated in the Cedarville schools, graduating from Cedarville High School and attending Cedarville College. For two years preceding her marriage she taught in the Selma schools. Her marriage to Mr. Bull took place nine years ago. Besides her husband and parents, Mrs. Bull is survived by two sons, Ralph and Marvin Bull, two brothers, Ralph Townsley of Cedarville and Paul Townsley and Miss Hester Townsley at home.

Mrs. Bull was a member of the United Presbyterian Church of Cedarville. The funeral will be held at the home, Monday afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. J. P. White will have charge of the services. Burial will be at Cedarville Cemetery.

IF RHEUMATIC EAT NO SWEETS

Says glass of Salts helps to overcome Rheumatism acid.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly, keep the feet dry, avoid exposure, and above all, drink plenty of good water and avoid eating sweets of all kind.

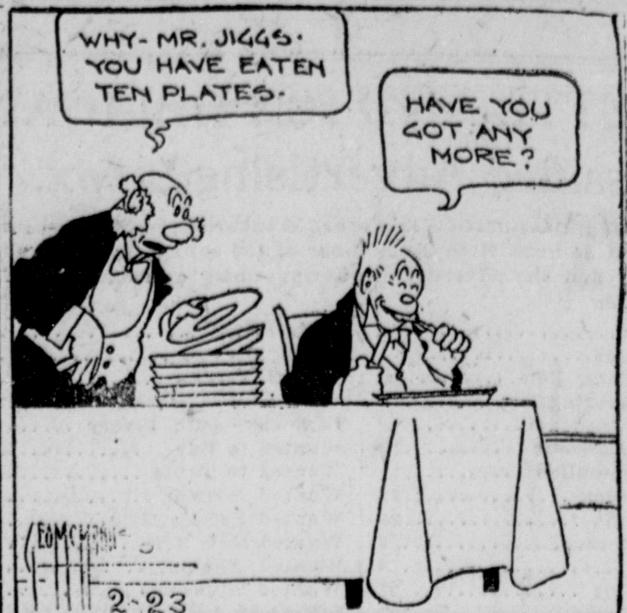

Rheumatism is caused by body waste and acids resulting from food fermentation. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this waste and acids, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove waste matter, also to stimulate the kidneys, thus often riding the blood of rheumatic poison.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatisms.

ALARM CLOCK GETS HENS BUSY EARLY

St. Clairsville, Ohio, Feb. 23.—An alarm clock, a mousetrap and an electric switch make up a contrivance by which State Representative D. Alton Bond is trying to increase the egg production of his 20 hens.

Bond had been rising from his morning couch at 5 o'clock in the morning and turning the lights on in his hen house. Now he sets the alarm for 4 a. m. when it begins tapping a string attached to the bell clapper sets off the mouse-killer and pulls the switch shut, turning on the lights in the hen house without disturbing the owner.

Bond believes in a long working day, for he also leaves the lights on at night. He says however, that when the lights are turned off suddenly late at night the hens are unable to find the roosts. So he has arranged a dimmer combination, by which the hens find their way to their rail beds. Then in a few minutes off go the dimmers, and everything is set for the night—until the clock, trap and switch combination get in action some eight hours later.

Several Reader Friends have been kind enough to send me directions for the Fruit Sauce or Relish recently mentioned by "A Reader."

Fruit Chilli Sauce: One head of celery, 30 ripe tomatoes, six each of onions, peaches, pears and apples. Three each of red and green peppers. Four cups of brown sugar, two tablespoons of salt, one quart of hot cider vinegar, and two teaspoons each of ground cinnamon, mace, cloves and allspice. Chop all the ingredients fine, putting the spices in a small bag. Boil all together for two hours, or until thick. Mrs. B. D.

Fruit Piccalilli: Fifteen ripe tomatoes, six large onions, two red peppers, six rather hard pears, six peaches. Cut these in small pieces and put them into a kettle with two heaping cups of brown sugar, one pint of vinegar, one tablespoon of salt and one teaspoon each of ground cinnamon, clove, mace and allspice. Boil this mixture for one and one-half hours, after it reaches the boiling point.

Fruit Relish: I may have been the one whom "A Reader" overheard speaking of fruit relish in a street car. Here is my original recipe: Put through a food chopper, or cut small by hand, two pounds of ripe tomatoes (which you have scalded to remove skins), five large apples, five large pears, one pound of onions, one stick of celery, and one package of seeded raisins. Turn this chopped mixture into a saucepan. Now, in a muslin bag, tie up together the following: the rind of one lemon and two oranges cut small, one blade of mace, two whole cloves, three or four pieces of bruised ginger root, 12 or 14 pepper corns and a little allspice. Put this bagful of spices into the saucepan also. Then add one cupful of white vinegar and the juice of one lemon and two oranges, and boil all slowly for two hours. Remove bag of spices and turn the relish into glasses or jars and tie down for future use. During cooking, this must be stirred quite frequently.—C. C. W.

Fruit Sauce: Cut small 30 large tomatoes, six large peaches, six large pears and six large onions (without cores), or put them through the food chopper. Boil this chopped mixture two hours with one quart of vinegar, small bag of mixed spices, two tablespoons of salt and four cups of granulated sugar. Seal airtight in hot, sterilized jars. Mrs. L. S. M.

GASTON WINS DOG DERBY.

Ashton, Ida., Feb. 23.—Smoky Gaston won the American championship from Ted Kent by the hair-raising margin of 14 seconds in the famous American dog derby here.

Things were going well on the ranch. They had ceased talking of the injury the frost had done and were planning for the next crop. This time Ann would see that they had everything needful should another cold spell come along. She had known absolutely nothing of the needs of a ranch, the vital need of being prepared against cold weather. But she was very quick, and the keeping of the accounts, her talk with Ned, had taught her much that women who had lived even longer in the valley had not learned.

A PURITAN WIFE

By Jane Phelps

CHAPTER XVI.

Dick was an indefatigable worker, but work alone was not enough. They must be prepared for every emergency.

"You'll be the boss rancher in the valley if you keep on," Dick said to Ann, as she told of her plans. "Even if we have only a two by four ranch."

"It won't always be a two by four," she told him.

"And it is better to have a small ranch whose yield we can take care of then a bigger one we too grow bigger. You have a lot of land, if we can keep it.

But to do that we must have good crops from the land under cultivation.

Every year that we do we can cultivate a little more."

"Right you are, boss!" Dick ansawed pulling the bright forelock that fell into his eyes.

"You see, Dick, we'll soon be three instead of two."

"I know, old girl!" He sobered,

"and sometimes it almost scares me."

"Why, dear?" she laughed happily.

"Just because I'm a stupid man I guess—and afraid for you so far from your folks."

"I'm not afraid, Dick. We will be very happy, dear."

Ann never let Dick know how dependently she wanted her mother. Had it not been for their loss through his carelessness she might have sent for her. Yet it was out of the question.

Mrs. Peabody could not afford the fare and now they couldn't send it to her.

So Ann made ready for motherhood, happy in her thought that with the coming of a child. Dick would give up his habit of drinking, would feel his new responsibility.

Then too, Grace's parents were soon to return. When she heard it,

Ann could scarcely conceal her delight. More and more had she learned to dislike the girl, although she had fought against it. Her bold ways, almost unbearable. But as yet Ann had so controlled herself there had been no open rupture.

"How can you stand it, Ann?" Bessie asked. "I'm glad—I can't help it—that she has transferred her affections from Ned. But you are so awfully unhappy."

"She doesn't mean anything, Bes sie. She's—well—just that kind. If she was with any other man it would be the same."

"I don't agree with you, else why hasn't she acted the same with Hugh Norton. He's single and she would hurt no one. But she acts to me as if she were trying to throw him—make Dick think—carded."

Ann was horrified! She care for anyone but Dick! It was ridiculous. Yet after this she noted that Grace did seem to throw Hugh with her, that she hinted they were pleased to have it so.

It made Ann self-conscious when with Hugh, made her flush and act uncomfortable, so giving point to what Bes sie had said. Grace noticed, and laughingly said to Dick:

"Ann and Hugh are falling in love—isn't it a scream?"

To Be Continued.
